The impossible reconstruction: between Gaza and Beirut

ABSTRACT

Dana Abbas, Howayda Al Harithy and Israa Assaf join the talk moderated by professors Boano and Berlanda, and will share the material and social obstacles Palestinian and Lebanese face in thinking about reconstruction.

The urgency of the theme of what “recovery” means in the context of war destruction can, and should, bring useful reflections also to contexts which are currently not affected by conflicts, and help expand what notions of ecological transition and energy performance of buildings can be.
